What specialist services are available to help you cope with low vision?

- We can provide you with specialist information, advice and equipment. Correspondence and leaflets are available in your preferred format, such as large print or audio disc.
- We can help by referring you to other agencies such as the RNIB and council departments, which may offer specialist services for Visually Impaired People. For example, the Library Service has audio books and IT equipment.
- Assessment and instruction is available, from the specialist Rehabilitation /Mobility Officer, in practical ways to improve personal independence and safety, at home and outdoors.
- We may assist with a referral to an Ophthalmologist who will consider your eligibility to register as Sight Impaired (Partially Sighted) or Severely Sight Impaired (Blind).

What does registration mean for you?

- Under the National Assistance Act 1948, the Local Authority has a duty to provide services for people with disabilities, following an assessment of need.
- Registration as Severely Sight Impaired or Sight Impaired is not essential to access many services for Visually Impaired People. ■

- Registration does enable us to provide information, advice and support for Visually Impaired People, their families and carers, aimed at promoting independence.
- A copy of your Certificate of Visual Impairment is always sent to us and enables registration. It also allows you to access various additional benefits and concessions.

What is involved?

- The Social Worker or Rehabilitation Officer, for Visually Impaired People, will carry out an assessment. This will help to identify your needs and the resources required for you to live as independently as possible.
- Following the assessment you may be eligible for help with personal and domestic care. The costs, however, will depend upon your financial circumstances.
- We can assist with referrals to other departments or agencies, if required.
