“128 USE OF PERFORMANCE INFORMATION: SERVICE USER PERSPECTIVE AND OUTCOMES – VALE OF GLAMORGAN COUNCIL (REF) –

The reference from Corporate Performance and Resources Scrutiny Committee on 22nd May, 2024 was presented.

As part of the Council's annual audit work programme for 2023, the Auditor General for Wales undertook a review of the Council's Use of Performance Information: Service User Perspective and Outcomes.

The purpose of the review was to help fulfil the Auditor General's duties under section 17 of the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2004 (the 2004 Act) and section 15 of the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015. This review had been carried out across all Welsh authorities and with a focus on seeking assurance that the performance information the Council provided to senior officers and Elected Members enabled them to understand the service user perspective and the outcome of its activities; that this information formed part of the Council's arrangements to secure value for money in the use of its resources and its application of the sustainable development principle; and to identify opportunities for the Council to strengthen its arrangements.

The findings of the review (attached at Appendix A to the report) were as follows:

- The Council's performance information provided senior leaders with a limited understanding of the service user perspective and the outcomes of the Council's activities;
- The performance information provided to senior leaders provided them with some insight into the perspective of service users, but this was not consistent across all services;
- The performance information provided to senior leaders did not enable them to have a comprehensive understanding of the outcomes of the Council's actions.

The Council had arrangements in place to ensure that its performance information was accurate.

As information provided on outcomes and the perspective of service users was limited, the extent to which the Council could use this information to help it achieve its outcomes was also limited.

The Council had identified that it needed to engage more with service users but had not determined how this would shape the information provided to senior leaders to ensure it was appropriate and relevant.

Two recommendations had been made to the strengthen Council's approach.

- R1: Information on the perspective of the service user – The Council should strengthen the information it provided to its senior leaders to enable them to understand how well services and policies were meeting the needs of service users.
- R2: Outcomes information – The Council should strengthen the information provided to senior leaders to help them evaluate whether the Council was delivering its objectives and intended outcomes.

In response to the recommendations, the Director of Corporate Resources had developed an action plan which would be progressed by the Council. This was attached at Appendix B to the report.

In line with the Council's performance monitoring arrangements, progress against regulatory improvement areas would be monitored via the Strategic Insight Board Insight Tracker. All Scrutiny Committees would continue to be informed of progress against our regulatory improvement areas through quarterly performance monitoring arrangements. This would be supplemented with a 6 monthly and annual review of regulatory progress, which would be reported to the Governance and Audit Committee and Cabinet for final oversight. Progress would also be monitored by Audit Wales as part of the Council's annual audit work programme.

Mr. N. Ireland (Lay Member) stated that it was good to see the Council looking at outcomes rather than outputs, and he queried whether there would be ongoing support or training for staff around that. Mr. Ireland also queried whether there would be independent checks on an ongoing basis assessing whether recommendations had been achieved. In reply, the Director of Corporate Resources stated that in terms of actions changing from outputs to outcomes, that was a different way of thinking for staff and the Council was grateful to the office of the Future Generations Commissioner who had provided a lot of support in terms of the process. The Commissioner had also provided a useful training session around what the framework should look like. The first part of the process was to engage with a wide variety of stakeholders including the public and Elected Members to identify the main objectives and to consider what the outcomes for citizens should be. The Council would also need to consider how the objectives and outcomes would be monitored, and so, there would be training and support for Elected Members as well as members of the Governance and Audit Committee.

Councillor M. Hooper commented that one of the issues that needed to be considered further had been highlighted through the Let's Talk Survey and some of the perceived issues with the Council raised by residents. Councillor Hooper stated that in terms of public engagement, the Council needed to carry out more detailed analysis and insights of public responses so that it could better understand and get behind the issues being raised, particularly as budgets were getting tighter. In response, the Director stated that the Let's Talk Survey was the first piece of engagement with residents about their issues and perceptions of Council services. That was something that the Council was taking seriously and was being considered by a range of Committees and forums. An example of that was Project Zero and making sure that knowledge and understanding of that was spread throughout the organisation. Therefore, the purpose of the Let's Talk Survey was to share information throughout the Council as far as possible. In addition, there was the Place Making work and work through the Public Services Board which allowed the Council to understand the experiences and perceptions of different residents and to respond when appropriate.

Councillor J. Protheroe agreed with the comments made by Councillor Hooper, and she highlighted that the questions posed to residents were usually observational and did not allow for a deeper dive. Therefore, more insight work would be welcomed.

Mr. G. Chapman (Chair and Lay Member) stated that there was a lot of information in reports presented to Committees and not just the Governance and Audit Committee, such as the Complaints report and the Leisure report which contained a significant amount of performance and non-performance data. In addition, there were complaints to Councillors from residents which were not fully recorded, and which contained a lot of knowledge and information. The Chair also commented that he agreed with Councillor Hooper and how open and how well the Council knew itself was a key point to understand the issues being raised by residents. The Scrutiny Committees would be able to assist the Council in identifying areas for improvement, particularly in relation to the current budget situation. In response, the Director commented that how well the Council knew itself was the main the reason for running the Let's Talk Survey. From that, the Council was taking on board the feedback across the whole range of questions. that the people had fed back. The Director added that recently within the performance reports to the Scrutiny Committees, an areas of improvement or concerns section had been included. That meant that there was a mechanism to highlight issues with members.

Councillor E. Goodjohn commented that the Vale of Glamorgan Council was a very large institution and there were departments which required support in terms of evaluating performance and engaging with the public. Therefore, the Council needed to reflect how specific departments undertook public engagement to ensure they were all the same standard and the same level. The Director stated that it had been recognised that there were different approaches in different parts of the Council, and it was now important to reflect on what residents had told the Council. It was also important to reframe how the Council engaged with residents particularly as there were significant budgetary pressures which were impacting on services and Council priorities.

Subsequently, it was

“ USE OF PERFORMANCE INFORMATION: SERVICE USER PERSPECTIVE
AND OUTCOMES - VALE OF GLAMORGAN COUNCIL (DCR) –

The report was presented by Rachel Harries from Audit Wales, the purpose of which was to advise Members of the findings of the review undertaken by Audit Wales of the Council’s Use of Performance Information, Service User Perspective and Outcomes.

As part of the Council’s Annual Audit Work Programme for 2023, the Auditor General for Wales undertook a review of the Council’s Use of Performance Information: Service User Perspective and Outcomes.

The purpose of the Review was to help fulfil the Auditor General’s duties under Section 17 of the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2004 (the 2004 Act) and Section 15 of the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015. The review had been carried out across all Welsh authorities with a focus on seeking assurance that the performance information the Council provided to senior officers and Elected Members enabled them to understand the service user perspective and the outcome of its activities; that the information formed part of the Council’s arrangements to secure value for money in the use of its resources and its application of the sustainable development principle and identified opportunities for the Council to strengthen its arrangements.

The findings of the review were attached at Appendix A to the report, which concluded that the Council had identified that it needed to engage more with service users but had not determined how this would shape the information provided to senior leaders to ensure it was appropriate and relevant.

Two recommendations had been made to strengthen the Council’s approach.

- R1: Information on the perspective of the service user – The Council should strengthen the information it provides to its senior leaders to enable them to understand how well services and policies are meeting the needs of service users.
- R2: Outcomes information – The Council should strengthen the information provided to senior leaders to help them evaluate whether the Council is delivering its objectives and intended outcomes.

In response to the recommendations, the Director of Corporate Resources referred to the immediate action that had been taken where an action plan had been developed which would be progressed by the Council. This was attached at Appendix B to the report.

In line with the Council's performance monitoring arrangements, progress against regulatory improvement areas would be monitored via the Strategic Insight Board Insight Tracker. All Scrutiny Committees would continue to be informed of progress against the regulatory improvement areas through quarterly performance monitoring arrangements. This would be supplemented with a 6 monthly and annual review of regulatory progress, which would be reported to the Governance and Audit Committee and Cabinet for final oversight. Progress would also be monitored by Audit Wales as part of the Council's Annual Audit Work Programme.

Councillor Goodjohn stated that he was pleased to hear the progress that was being taken forward, however enquired as to what comparisons had been undertaken with other Local Authorities. The Auditor advised that work had been undertaken similarly to the report presented this evening with the 22 Local Authorities and a national study report would also be produced in the coming months. Useful discussions had been held at the All-Wales Policy Meetings with it being further discussed about focusing more and more on better outcomes. The Auditor advised that every Authority had received recommendations with some Authorities having received more recommendations than others. The Vale had only received two recommendations. Following a response to a query Committee was informed that all the Local Authorities reports were available on the Auditor for Wales's website.

Having considered the report, it was subsequently.

Recommendations

1. That the Corporate Performance and Resources Scrutiny Committee considers the findings arising from the review of the Council's Use of Performance Information: Service User Perspective and Outcomes (Appendix A) and the response to the review findings and Audit Wales' recommendations (Appendix B).
2. That, subject to recommendation one, the report be referred to Governance and Audit Committee and thereafter to Cabinet for their oversight and endorsement of the proposed Council actions (Appendix B) to address the recommendations.

Reasons for Recommendations

1. To provide for scrutiny and review of the findings of Audit Wales' review the Council's Use of Performance Information: Service User Perspective and Outcomes and the Council's response to its findings.
2. To ensure the Council responds appropriately and implements areas of improvement as identified by Audit Wales.

1. Background

- 1.1 As part of the Council's annual audit work programme for 2023, the Auditor General for Wales undertook a review of the Council's Use of Performance Information: Service User Perspective and Outcomes.
- 1.2 The purpose of the review was to help fulfil the Auditor General's duties under section 17 of the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2004 (the 2004 Act) and section 15 of the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015. This review has been being carried out across all Welsh Authorities and with a focus on seeking assurance that Councils' approach to the Use of Performance Information; Service User Perspective and Outcomes provided to senior officers and Elected Members enables them to understand the service user perspective and the outcome of its activities; that this information forms part of the Council's arrangements to secure value for money in the use of its resources and its application of the sustainable development principle; and to identify opportunities for the Council to strengthen its arrangements.

2. Key Issues for Consideration

- 2.1 Appendix A contains the Audit Wales report outlining the key findings of the review.
- 2.2 The review focused on the performance information provided to senior officers and senior members (senior leaders) about service user perspective and outcomes, and how this information is used. This was not a full review of the Council's performance management arrangements nor an in-depth review of the quality of the data that the Council collects. Neither did the review focus on involvement, engagement or consultation with service users on specific service changes or the development of policies and strategies which form an important part of senior leaders' understanding of the service user perspective and outcomes of the Council's activity. The audit questions and audit criteria are detailed in the Audit Wales report in Appendix A.

2.3 Audit Wales were looking for evidence that performance information is shared with senior leaders to help them understand how well services and policies are meeting the needs of service users and how well they are helping the Council to achieve the outcomes it is working towards. They were also looking to see that senior leaders use this information to monitor progress and take action where necessary to improve outcomes.

2.4 The review concluded that:

- The Council's performance information provides senior leaders with a limited understanding of the service user perspective and the outcomes of the Council's activities.
- The performance information provided to senior leaders provides them with some insight into the perspective of service users, but this is not consistent across all services.
- The performance information provided to senior leaders does not enable them to have a comprehensive understanding of the outcomes of the Council's actions.
- The Council has arrangements in place to ensure that its performance information is accurate.
- As information provided on outcomes and the perspective of service users is limited, the extent to which the Council can use this information to help it achieve its outcomes is also limited.
- The Council has identified that it needs to engage more with service users but hasn't determined how this will shape the information provided to senior leaders to ensure it is appropriate and relevant.

2.5 The report makes two recommendations to the strengthen Council's approach:

- R1: Information on the perspective of the service user - The Council should strengthen the information it provides to its senior leaders to enable them to understand how well services and policies are meeting the needs of service users.
- R2: Outcomes information - The Council should strengthen the information provided to senior leaders to help them evaluate whether the Council is delivering its objectives and intended outcomes.

2.6 In response to the recommendations, the Director of Corporate Resources has developed an action plan which will be progressed by the Council (Appendix B).

2.7 In line with the Council's performance monitoring arrangements, progress against our regulatory improvement areas will be monitored via the Strategic Insight Board Insight Tracker. All Scrutiny Committees will continue to be informed of progress against our regulatory improvement areas through quarterly performance monitoring arrangements. This will be supplemented with a 6 monthly and annual review of regulatory progress, which will be reported to the Governance and Audit Committee and Cabinet for final oversight. Progress will also be monitored by Audit Wales as part of the Council's annual audit work programme.

- 2.8 Corporate Performance and Resources Scrutiny Committee Members are being asked to consider the contents of the appended report (Appendix A) and the Council's response (Appendix B) with any recommendations / comments being referred to Governance and Audit Committee and thereafter, onto Cabinet for their consideration and endorsement of the proposed actions to address the recommendations

3. How do proposals evidence the Five Ways of Working and contribute to our Well-being Objectives?

- 3.1 Performance Management is an intrinsic part of corporate governance and integrated business planning which underpins the delivery of the Council's Corporate Plan and its Well-being Outcomes. Our Corporate Plan has been structured around the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015, through the development of four Well-being Outcomes and eight Well-being Objectives. By aligning our Well-being Outcomes in the Corporate Plan with the Well-being Goals of the Act, this will enable us to better evidence our contribution to the Goals.
- 3.2 External Regulation is an important vehicle for driving continuous improvement across our services. Progressing the improvement areas identified by our regulators not only enables us to demonstrate our commitment to continuous service improvement, but also contributes to further strengthening our impact on the national well-being goals through the achievement of our well-being objectives. The focus of this report will in particular assist in strengthening our work around involvement.
- 3.3 The areas of improvement identified by our external regulators and the associated action plan produced by officers has been developed with the five ways of working in mind. The focus of these is on developing innovative ways of working that better integrate services, whilst enabling us to work more collaboratively with our partners and citizens to involve them in improving service delivery. These improvement actions also focus on preventative actions that will enable us to sustain and future proof our services into the longer term.

4. Climate Change and Nature Implications

- 4.1 There are no implications directly arising from this report, although failure to progress the improvement areas outlined in the report could have a negative impact on any future external regulatory assessments and could result in a special inspection by the Auditor General for Wales if deemed that the Council is not meeting the performance requirements.

5. Resources and Legal Considerations

Financial

- 5.1 There are no additional budgetary implications directly arising from this report, although failure to progress the improvement areas outlined in the report could have a negative impact on any future external regulatory assessments of the Council which could in turn put funding opportunities at risk.

Employment

- 5.2 There are no direct workforce related implications associated with this report. However, there are a number of issues contained within the report that if not effectively managed have the potential to impact on our staff establishment and performance overall. This may in turn impact adversely on achievement of our well-being Objectives.

Legal (Including Equalities)

- 5.3 The Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015 (WBFG) and the Local Government & Elections (Wales) Act 2021 (LG&E) require the Council to publish annual Well-being Objectives, keep performance under review and consult and report on our performance through an annual self-assessment relating to the previous financial year.
- 5.4 The Auditor General for Wales is statutorily required under the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015, to examine public bodies to assess the extent to which they have acted in accordance with the sustainable development principle when setting their well-being objectives and taking steps to meet them.
- 5.5 Under the LG&E Act, a special inspection of the Council may be undertaken if the Auditor General for Wales considers that the Council is not, or may not be meeting, the performance requirements. This inspection is to assess the extent to which the Council is meeting the performance requirements, in exercising its functions effectively; using its resources economically, efficiently and effectively; and in ensuring its governance is effective for securing the above.

Report summary

- 1 We considered the service user perspective and outcome information provided to senior officers and senior members (senior leaders), and how this information is used.
- 2 Overall, we found that the Council's performance information provides senior leaders with a limited understanding of the service user perspective and the outcomes of the Council's activities.
- 3 Our findings are based upon fieldwork we did between March and August 2023.
- 4 We have made two recommendations to strengthen the information given to senior leaders.

What we looked at – the scope of this audit

- 5 We focused on the performance information provided to senior officers and senior members (senior leaders) about service user perspective and outcomes, and how this information is used. We did not undertake a full review of the Council's performance management arrangements or an in-depth review of the quality of the data that the Council collects. Neither did the review focus on engagement with service users on specific service changes or the development of policies and strategies.
- 6 We have set out our audit questions and audit criteria in Appendix 1. The audit criteria essentially sets out what good looks like and what we would expect to find.
- 7 Overall, we were looking for performance information to be shared with senior leaders to help them understand how well services and policies are meeting the needs of service users and how well they are helping the Council to achieve the outcomes it is working towards. We were also looking to see that senior leaders use this information to monitor progress and take action where necessary to improve outcomes.
- 8 This is an important part of arrangements to ensure that councils are securing value for money in the use of their resources. It is also an important way in which the Council can assure itself that it is acting in accordance with the 'involvement' way of working in taking steps to meet its well-being objectives. Without this information, it is difficult to see how senior leaders can understand whether their policies and actions are having the intended impact and make changes where they are not.
- 9 Our findings are based on document reviews and interviews with the Cabinet Member, Director and senior officers with responsibility for the Council's performance management arrangements. The evidence we have used to inform our findings is limited to these sources

- 10 We set out to answer the question 'Does the Council's performance data enable senior leaders to understand the service user perspective and the outcomes of its activities to effectively manage its performance?' We did this by exploring the following questions:
- Does the performance information provided to senior leaders include appropriate information on the perspective of service users?
 - Does the performance information provided to senior leaders include appropriate information on the outcomes of the Council's activities?
 - Does the Council have robust arrangements to ensure that the data provided is accurate?
 - Does the Council use the information to help it achieve its outcomes?
 - Does the Council review the effectiveness of its arrangements?

Why we undertook this audit

- 11 This audit was undertaken to help fulfil the Auditor General's duties under section 17 of the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2004 (the 2004 Act) and section 15 of the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015.
- 12 We sought to:
- gain assurance that the performance information the Council provides to senior officers and elected members enables them to understand the service user perspective and the outcome of its activities;
 - gain assurance that this information forms part of the Council's arrangements to secure value for money in the use of its resources and its application of the sustainable development principle; and
 - identify opportunities for the Council to strengthen its arrangements.

The Council's performance reporting arrangements

- 13 The Council's Cabinet receives performance reports every three months. These reports include details of service performance and progress towards the Council's well-being objectives.
- 14 The Council's Strategic Leadership Team receives quarterly performance reports. These include details of service performance and progress towards well-being objectives.
- 15 The Council published its Annual Self-Assessment 2021-22 in November 2022. Prior to this, the Governance and Audit Committee considered it in October 2022, in keeping with the requirements of the Local Government and Elections (Wales) Act 2021

16 Our review focused on these key performance reporting mechanisms.

What we found

The Council's performance information provides senior leaders with a limited understanding of the service user perspective and the outcomes of the Council's activities.

The performance information provided to senior leaders provides them with some insight into the perspective of service users, but this is not consistent across all services.

- 17 Every quarter, the Council reports a large volume of performance information to its Strategic Leadership Team , Scrutiny Committees and Cabinet.
- 18 We found a small number of examples of information, such as customer satisfaction measures, which would help senior leaders understand the views of service users. As part of its annual self-assessment, the Council surveyed its citizens, which included questions about satisfaction with Council services. The Council incorporated the findings from the survey into its annual self-assessment report, thus helping senior leaders to understand the perspective of service users. However, the Council acknowledges in its self-assessment report that response rates to the survey were low and did not necessarily reflect the full diversity of the population.
- 19 Overall, we found that information to help senior leaders understand the views of service users is limited and not consistently provided across all services. This means that senior leaders are not always able to use the perspective of service users to inform their decisions or monitoring of service performance.

The performance information provided to senior leaders does not enable them to have a comprehensive understanding of the outcomes of the Council's actions.

- 20 The majority of the performance measures and indicators reported to senior leaders are output focused, although there are also examples of measures that allow senior leaders to understand the outcome or impact that the Council's actions have had. However, within the Council's performance reports, not all wellbeing objectives are supported by outcome focused performance measures. This limits senior leaders' ability to understand the impact of the Council's activities and whether it is meeting its objectives.

The Council has arrangements in place to ensure that its performance information is accurate

- 21 The Council 's performance management framework incorporates arrangements to check the quality and accuracy of data, and to support colleagues where weaknesses in data quality are identified. For example, the Council provides written guidance on performance reporting to officers responsible for providing the performance information, as well as written guidance on setting targets and a performance indicator definition library.
- 22 Officers responsible for providing performance information are supported by a range of templates and documents that ensure a consistent approach to collecting, checking and reporting data across the Council.
- 23 In April 2022, as part of its review of the Council's performance management arrangements, Internal Audit reviewed the accuracy of the information collected and reported for public accountability measures (PAMs). Internal Audit gave an opinion of reasonable assurance and made a recommendation that officers updating the performance information should be reminded to save and retain source evidence, so accuracy can be checked. The Council agreed that it would do this. These arrangements help give senior leaders assurance that there is rigour behind the performance information they receive.
- 24 The Council, therefore, has processes in place to give itself assurance that senior leaders' decisions are based on robust performance information.

As information provided on outcomes and the perspective of service users is limited, the extent to which the Council can use this information to help it achieve its outcomes is also limited

- 25 As set out above, our main finding is that performance information provided to senior leaders provides a limited understanding of the service user perspective and the outcomes of the Council's activities. Therefore, it logically follows that the extent to which the Council uses the service user perspective and outcomes information to help it achieve its outcomes from this performance information is also limited.
- 26 We did find a small number of examples of the Council providing information on the perspective of service users and outcomes. In those instances, there was evidence of the Council's scrutiny committees responding to poor performance information and engaging with those issues in more depth. For example, there has been scrutiny of the performance of the customer contact centre and sickness absence data.

The Council has identified that it needs to engage more with service users, but hasn't determined how this will shape the information provided to senior leaders to ensure it is appropriate and relevant

- 27 The Council's Corporate sets out the Council's intent to increase the level of engagement with service users. This in turn aims to increase the amount of information the Council has about the service user perspective. However, the Council has not explored how it will use that information to help senior leaders better understand the perspective of service users.
- 28 The Council does not routinely compare its arrangements for collecting and reporting performance information on outcomes and the service user perspective with the approaches of other organisations. Doing this will help the Council understand and learn from how other councils are providing information on service user perspective and outcomes. This is an important element of arrangements to secure value for money.

Recommendations

Exhibit 1: Recommendations

- R1 Information on the perspective of the service user
- The Council should strengthen the information it provides to its senior leaders to enable them to understand how well services and policies are meeting the needs of service users.

- R2 Outcomes information
- The Council should strengthen the information provided to senior leaders to help them evaluate whether the Council is delivering its objectives and intended outcomes.
